

Restaurant Dining Areas Reopening Plan

Restaurants are required to adhere to the Idaho Food Code when reopening. In addition, guidelines and recommendations are available from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Food and Drug Administration to reduce the chance of transmission of the virus that causes COVID-19 when Idaho food establishments open dining areas.

The following plan must be submitted for approval to the local public health district prior to dining area operations resuming after May 16, 2020. Reopening plans do not have to be approved before resuming operation and inspections will not be required. However, restaurants should have their reopening plan available during routine inspections, enforcement inspections, pre-opening inspections, and food illness investigations. Each section includes options to meet the dining area reopening plan in Idaho. By check marking items, you are attesting to planned implementation of these mitigation measures for re-opening dining areas.

If alternative plans have been created, note those plans below, or submit them with this document, to the local public health district for approval.
